MAP Global Update

MEDICINE FOR ALL PEOPLE — INT'L

Our mission: To provide medicine and health supplies to those in need around the world so they might experience life to the fullest.

Over the past year, because of faithful and generous friends like you, MAP was able to provide $1 billion worth of lifesaving medicine and health supplies.

You'll notice this Fall Newsletter has a fresh, new look that reflects an exciting phase in MAP International's journey. As we've grown in our expertise connecting pharmaceutical partners with trusted organizations worldwide, our mission remains unchanged while our capacity to deliver impact has never been greater.

Each story represents a life transformed by our growing expertise in global health supply chains and the powerful message your support delivers: "You are seen. You are loved. You matter."

Thanks to you, MAP USA reaches people like Mike and Alicia

“No insurance, no hope.” Those were the despairing words Mike* spoke to his wife Alicia* after spending nearly 21 days in a near coma caused by congestive heart failure, compounded by pneumonia, a pulmonary embolism and COPD. No insurance meant they couldn’t afford their medications.

More than 28 million Americans are uninsured or underinsured, Mike and Alicia being two of them. But thanks to supporters like you and a clinic, Good Health Ministries, that is part of MAP USA, they received the medication they needed, free of cost.

The program is dedicated to improving health equity across the U.S. by delivering essential medicine to uninsured and underinsured individuals in medically underserved communities. It serves 125 clinics across eight states, including new sites in Florida and North Carolina and a doubling of its network in Texas. In 2024, MAP USA delivered $1.2 million in medicine and health supplies and enabled 290,000 patient treatments for chronic conditions like diabetes and hypertension.

Ian can see again

Ian, who lives on the island of St. Vincent, works as a tailor. Then one day, Ian noticed his vision felt a little blurry.

Day by day his vision grew worse, and he could no longer see well enough to do his job.

Without his income, Ian and his family were forced to move from their home and were barely scraping by. Then he heard about a medical mission team performing free eye surgeries in neighboring Barbados.

The doctor there discovered a cataract that was the culprit causing Ian’s vision to fail. The team, using intraocular lenses and surgical supplies from MAP International, performed surgery to remove the cataract and restore Ian’s vision.

“As a result of his successful cataract surgery, Ian can now see well again and has returned to work and can provide for his family,” said a mission team member. “His overall outlook on life is much more positive and he has even started dressing better, like he used to before he had problems with his vision.”

Wilishon says thanks to you for helping him get back to school!

Seven-year-old Wilishon lives with his father, mother, and brother in a batey community in the Dominican Republic. His father, Lussen, works cutting sugarcane, and his mother, Molina, takes care of the house and children.

Wilishon recently developed a case of tinea of the scalp. In addition to the unsightly appearance of the fungus and constant scratching that comes with it, the condition is also very contagious, keeping him away from school and friends.

Thankfully, a local mission clinic periodically hosts a "medical day" for the community, and a doctor was able to identify the condition and treat the fungus with ketoconazole cream that had been donated by MAP International.

"The well-timed donation of this effective ointment brought great relief to the boy and his parents, who had no means of purchasing any medication on their own," a clinic representative told MAP. "He has regained the freedom to attend school and be a kid again, without any anxiety or trepidation, and the family is truly grateful for that."

Ways you can help MAP International have even more impact

MAP prides itself on being good stewards of the gifts entrusted to us by God and our supporters. As you start planning your year-end giving around this time, we wanted to share a few additional giving options.

Schedule a gift from a Donor Advised Fund (DAF): Giving through your donor advised fund is an easy way to have a maximum impact in getting lifesaving medicine and health supplies to those who need them most.

Donate stock or other non-cash assets: If you have appreciated stocks, you can transfer them to MAP International and avoid paying capital gains tax. You can also deduct the full value on your taxes! This is just one way to donate and can make a difference on your tax return next year. Transfer stocks today.

Make a Qualified Charitable Distribution and save on taxes by giving from your IRA. If you are 70½ or older, giving to MAP International directly from your IRA allows you to support our critical work without dipping into your taxable income.
